

General Policy

- The Probation period will be 6 months. Regular performance reviews will be conducted to assess your performance and suitability.
- The Employee agrees that during the Employment period, he shall devote his full working hours to the business affairs of the company as per his job description and shall perform his duties faithfully and efficiently.
- During and after the employment/Employment period, the employee will not divulge or appropriate to his own use or to the use of others, in competition with the company, any secret or confidential information or knowledge about the business of the company obtained by him in any way while he was employed by the Company or by any of its subsidiaries.
- This Job Description may be amended from time to time as deemed necessary by the Company to fall in line with changing business conditions and needs, and these amended duties will have to be undertaken by the employees.
- The Employees are requested to kindly restrict the personal use of mobiles, phones, emails, messengers and chat applications.
- Employees are not allowed to play games, download non-official data or, engage in other work or carry out any other business without the permission of the company. Any violation can lead to immediate termination and appropriate action.
- We expect you to provide your conveyance to and from the work premises.
- During and after the Employment Period, the Employee will not divulge or appropriate to his own use or to the use of others, in competition with the company, any secret or confidential information or knowledge about the business of the company, obtained by him in any way while he was employed by the Company or by any of its subsidiaries.
- You are liable to be posted in any of the offices of the company and to work in any of its departments as the company may decide from time to time, without payment of any allowance other than the travelling and lodging allowance.
- The company supports the principle of equal employment opportunity. It is our policy not to discriminate against any applicant for employment because of race, colour, religion, age, sex, national origin or ancestry, marital status, veteran status, or disability. Any incident that you believe involves discrimination or harassment should be brought to the immediate attention of the management.

- No experience certificate would be issued to employees leaving before completing the 2-month notice period or who have been terminated from the company because of non-compliance with the office policies or any major offence.
- The company can terminate the employment without giving any prior notice due to a change in business conditions and needs.
- No Salary will be paid to employees leaving before completing the Notice period of 2 months in the company or who have been terminated from the company because of non-compliance with the office policies or any major offence.

Internship Policy

- The company expects the interns to comply with the company's policies strictly. Any act of non-compliance with the office policies and non-disciplinary action will be dealt with severely. It can result in immediate termination without advance notice. In this case, the company will not issue any certificate or pay any stipend.
- In case the company is not satisfied with the intern's performance, it may decide to discontinue at any time. In that case, it will not issue any certificate or pay any stipend.
- The interns will have to be informed in writing in case there are any time or other limitations.
- The Internship certificate will be issued only upon successful completion.
- No Stipend will be paid to an Intern who leaves before completing the 2-month notice period in the company or who has been terminated due to non-compliance with office policies or any major offence.

Leave Policy

- No leave will be granted during the Probation/Internship period.

- If you take any leave during your Probation/Internship period, then your probation/internship period will be extended by a number of days.
- In case of emergencies, the office should be informed at the earliest. A valid proof may be required.
- After completing your probation period, the person shall be entitled to 1 leave per month. Public holidays will be in addition to the usual leave entitlement.
- Except for emergencies, if an Employee wants any leave from the company, then he/she has to give the management or the technical head, whichever is applicable, at least a week's prior notice in the format below to their manager through email. In case of emergencies, the office should be informed at the earliest. A person failing to do so will be subject to a deduction and can be terminated without notice.
- Two days' salary will be deducted for every leave without permission/intimation. If the Employee takes leave for 3 days or more without prior notice, their 15 days' salary will be deducted. In case of repeated action, he can be terminated without any notice & salary settlement.
- In case of more than 3 non-pre-approved leaves per month, the company will only pay for the days worked.
- If the company decides to terminate the employment/internship, then it will only pay for the days worked (i.e. no payment will be made for weeks off/ holidays)
- If the employee resigns within one month of joining the company, the company will only pay for the days worked.
- The company can terminate your appointment without notice in case of prolonged or repeated absenteeism, non-punctuality or violation of any HR Policy or discipline. In this case, the company will not issue any certificate or pay any salary.
- For planned events (e.g., Weddings, family functions), employees should apply for leave at least 7 to 10 days in advance.
- If there is a sudden illness, the employee should inform the company as soon as possible (on the same day). And if the sick leave exceeds 2 days, a doctor's note or medical certificate may be required. Short-notice sick leave can only be taken once a month; repeated illness requires a medical certificate to be treated as sick leave.

- If an employee takes any leave immediately before or after a weekend or public holiday, the entire period (including the weekend or holiday) is counted as leave if it is not approved earlier.

Prior Approval for Planned Leaves

- If you plan to take leave (sick or otherwise), you must send an email requesting leave in advance.
- Only requests sent via email in advance will be considered approved.
- Short-notice leave without a valid reason or proof will not be accepted.

Non-Compliance with Company Policies

- If an employee fails to comply with the company policies, the manager and HR will take appropriate decisions they consider fit.
- Such decisions will be made in the best interest of the company and the employee's performance.
- The employee will receive a formal communication (via email or written notice) regarding any actions or decisions taken.
- It is the employee's responsibility to adhere to the policies to maintain a positive work environment and avoid disciplinary actions.

Punctuality Policy

- For every late arrival and early leaving, employees need to submit an explanation in the given format.

Format for time off request (to be sent to HR)

- WFH may also be approved based on genuine personal or health-related conditions.
- Not all roles are eligible for WFH Decisions will be made by HR and the Manager based on operational requirements.
- All WFH approvals must be documented via email and pre-approved by the reporting manager/HR.

Employee Behaviour Policy

We are dedicated to creating a positive workplace where every employee feels valued, safe, and empowered to give their best. Following this policy is crucial to preserving our shared culture and achieving success.

This policy applies to all employees, contractors, interns, and other individuals representing the company.

1. Respectful Conduct

- Treat all colleagues, clients, and stakeholders with courtesy and professionalism.
- Avoid any form of harassment, discrimination, or bullying.
- Listen actively and communicate thoughtfully.

2. Productive Work Ethic

- Demonstrate reliability, accountability, and integrity in all work.
- Meet deadlines, attend meetings on time, and follow through on commitments.
- Use work time and resources efficiently and responsibly.

3. Inclusivity and Diversity

- Embrace diverse backgrounds, perspectives, and experiences.
- Create a welcoming environment for everyone, regardless of race, gender, age, religion, disability, or sexual orientation.
- Speak up against discriminatory behavior and report violations.

4. Collaboration and Teamwork

- Support and cooperate with team members.
- Share knowledge and resources openly.

- Handle conflicts constructively and seek resolution respectfully.

5. Compliance and Ethics

- Follow all company policies, procedures, and legal regulations.
- Maintain confidentiality of sensitive information.
- Report unethical behavior or violations through proper channels.
- Use a professional tone in all work-related communications.
- Avoid gossip and unproductive discussions.

6. Role Comparisons

- Employees must not compare their roles, benefits (e.g., WFH), or responsibilities with others. Every role is assessed individually based on responsibilities, performance, and business needs.

7. Respect Management Decisions

- All decisions regarding benefits, work modes, and responsibilities are made by the management based on the company budget, policy, and operational priorities.
- All Suggestions that are not aligned with the company's strategic direction, the budget or the manager's decision will not be considered for implementation.

8. Maintain Professionalism

- Discussing internal benefits or attempting to influence decisions by comparing with others can lead to a negative work environment and is discouraged.

9. Escalation Protocol

- If an employee has concerns, they should raise them professionally through the proper HR or reporting channel, not through informal comparisons or public complaints

Code of Conduct During Meetings

- Employees are required to maintain a professional and respectful attitude during all meetings with team members and management.
- If an employee engages in unnecessary or disruptive arguments regarding any company policies or decisions, managers and HR reserve the right to take appropriate disciplinary actions as per company guidelines.
- Employees who have significant concerns or issues are encouraged to address them personally and privately with HR/management rather than engaging in arguments during meetings.

Major Offences

It is impossible to cover every standard of conduct for every circumstance, but certain major offences could lead to immediate punishment or termination of employment with or without loss of pay and may attract legal proceedings as well.

The following are major offences:

1. Do not take similar side/part-time/freelancing jobs or projects. Doing so may violate our non-compete agreement and lead to your termination.
2. Falsification of hours worked on Company records or omission of information requested on Company records.
3. Unauthorised use of, removal of, theft, or intentional damage to the property of the Company, any employee, intern, contractor or the customer.
